Lincoln Day dinner celebrated

Several candidates made their case to local conservatives during the Logan County Republican Lincoln Day Dinner Wednesday evening at the Winner Harvest Barn. Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost, pictured at the top left, was the featured speaker. He highlighted several court victories, where he and other attorney generals from across the country have challenged overreaching mandates from the Biden administration on vaccines, deportations and more. He also stressed the importance of supporting law enforcement agencies, instead of the Democrats' efforts to defund police. Candidate for Ohio Governor Jim Renacci, pictured at the top right, also addressed the crowd of nearly 300. He discussed the differences between himself and current incumbent Governor Mike DeWine. Finally, four U.S. Senate candidates were at the dinner. Businessman Neal Patel, businessman Mark Putika, State Senator Matt Dolan and businessman Mike Gibbons, all presented their ideas for making Washington, D.C., work better for Ohioans.

'We fought for liberty:' Michigan WWII vets welcome memorial

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — Officials in Michigan are ready to get started on the construction of what they say is one of the few state-specific World War II memorials in the country.

Art Fishman is excited that the project is taking another step toward reality.

The Oak Park resident, who sailed on a Navy destroyer in the Pacific theater as an 18-year-old, was to be among those on hand Thursday afternoon when ground is broken for The Michigan WWII Legacy Memorial.

"It's more important than people think. Why? Because, if it's handled right, it will teach the next generation what the war was about, why we were there, what did we fight for. We fought for liberty," said Fishman, 95, who sailed aboard the USS Robinson in 1945 during its stops in the Philippines, Iwo Jima, Okinawa and China.

The groundbreaking is for the first phase of the memorial, which includes the laying of more than 1,200 donated Walk of Honor paver bricks and the installation of both a statue called "Joe," which depicts a soldier in a foxhole reading a letter from home, and flagpoles representing all military branches.

Rookie Witt leads Royals to 3-1 win over Guardians in opener KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Bobby Witt Jr. searched the crowd for his family before his highly anticipated big league debut Thursday, finally spotting them in the sea of Kansas City Royals fans that had bundled up for a blustery opening day.

"I don't know if they were even paying attention to me," Witt admitted later.

Everyone was paying attention to him by the end.

After going hitless in his first three at-bats, Witt roped a double down the left-field line with two outs in the eighth inning, spurring the Royals to a 3-1 victory over the rechristened Cleveland Guardians.

"You couldn't have scripted that any better," Royals manager Mike Matheny said with a grin. "This isn't one he's going to forget, and I probably won't, either."

In a matchup of former Cy Young Award winners, Cleveland ace Shane Bieber and erstwhile Royals star Zach Greinke dueled to a 1-all stalemate before turning the game over to the bullpen on a cold day at Kauffman Stadium.

It remained tied until the eighth, when the Royals' Michael Taylor worked a walk off Triston McKenzie (0-1) and then took second on Nicky Lopez's sacrifice bunt. McKenzie struck out Whit Merrifield before Witt, regarded by many as the No. 1 prospect in the game, doubled down the left-field line to give Kansas City its first lead.

"I could kind of see it coming a little bit with the way the game was going," said Greinke, who signed a one-year deal to return to the club that drafted him 20 years ago. "It felt like it was going to be a special day."

Andrew Benintendi drove in Witt, giving Royals reliever Scott Barlow (1-0) a cushion. And after a perfect eighth, Barlow struck out Myles Straw with runners on the corners in the ninth to end it.

Lopez also drove in a run for Kansas City, while Jose Ramirez had an RBI double for the Guardians a day after agreeing to a $124 million, five-year deal to stay with Cleveland through what could be the end of his career.

Plenty of famous fans braved wintry weather to enjoy opening day.

Several members of the Kansas City Chiefs, including coach Andy Reid, dressed up in Royals gear. So did members of the Kansas basketball team, which beat North Carolina in the national title game Monday night in New Orleans.

It was 47 degrees at first pitch, and a gale blowing out to right field made it seem even colder. Then there was the off-and-on drizzle that turned to shooting pellets of ice during the national anthem, which probably made everybody stuck wearing a jersey long for the sun and warmth of Arizona spring training.

Tiger returns with 71 in first round of Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Tiger Woods playing the Masters again, his shirt as pink as the azaleas at Augusta National, would have been enough reason to celebrate Thursday.

It felt that way to him, too.

Woods twirled his club after good shots, and there were enough. He pumped his fist after his longest birdie putt. And then normalcy gave way to reality when he used his wedge as a walking stick for his once-battered and now weary legs for a final climb toward the 18th green.

Another par save for a 1-under 71, four shots behind Sungjae Im.

But this wasn't just about a score. Woods was competing in a major, the first time in 508 days since a car crash some 14 months ago that shattered his right leg. That much was clear when asked if simply being able to play felt like a victory. His answer: "Yes."

"If you would have seen how my leg looked to where it's at now, the pictures — some of the guys know; they've seen the pictures — to see where I've been, to get from there to here, it was no easy task," Woods said.

Tiger Woods acknowledges applause on the 18th green after finishing the first round at the Masters golf tournament on Thursday in Augusta, Ga. (AP PHOTO/ROBERT F. BUKATY)

It doesn't figure to get any easier the rest of the way.

Still to come is Friday, the first time he will have walked 18 holes at Augusta National on consecutive days since the accident with what he described as "lots of ice" in between.

Ahead of him are a collection of players who have won at Augusta, and who have spent the last year honing their games instead of figuring out how to get from a hospital bed to finding joy in the simple pleasure of walking.

Im, the 24-year-old South Korean known for rarely missing the center of the club face, ran off three straight birdies at the start, recovered from a pair of bogeys with a 12-foot eagle putt on the 13th and added a late birdie for a 5-under 67.

He was one shot ahead of Cameron Smith, playing for the first time since winning The Players Championship a month ago. The Aussie with the mullet had the most dynamic round of the day with his eight birdies, all between a double bogey at the start and the finish.

"To be honest, those couple of double bogeys really didn't have too bad a shot in them. It's not like I was scratching it out of the trees," Smith said. "Just misjudged the wind on both wedges. Just left myself in a bit of a tough spot. Other than that, it was just really solid."

Im's 67 was the highest score to lead after 18 holes at the Masters since 2014, and that was to be expected. Even with 2 inches of rain that softened the course, the front that cleared out the clouds brought enough wind to jangle the nerves at every turn.

Dustin Johnson, who held off Im and Smith when he won the Masters in November 2020, was 4 under through 10 holes and poised to present a daunting target with the scoring holes ahead of him. He had to settle for pars, dropped a shot late and was in the large group at 69.

Also at 69 were former Masters champion Danny Willett, world No. 1 Scottie Scheffler and Joaquin Niemann, who holed out for eagle on No. 9 and still didn't get the biggest roar of the round. He was playing with Woods, who heard them all day.

The crowd was so large that Woods could barely be seen over so many heads as he walked from the clubhouse to the putting green and then to the first tee, big cheers at each station, all the way down to Amen Corner until the end.

"Probably at the beginning I noticed that there was a lot of people, but then I was trying to talk to my caddie, and I couldn't hear anything that he was saying," Niemann said.

Overlooked in Woods playing again was the return of the spectators, and it was a beautiful and roaring marriage. There were pockets of cheers from around Augusta National, and endless cheers for Woods.

He missed that. They missed him. And he didn't waste time giving them reason for hope by making a 10-foot par putt on the first hole.

"The place was electric," Woods said. "I hadn't played like this since '19 when I won because in '20 we had COVID and we had no one here, and I didn't play last year. So to have the patrons fully out and to have that type of energy out there was awesome to feel."

JACQUELINE BIGAR'S STARS | FROM KING FEATURES SYNDICATE

Moon Alert: There are no restrictions to shopping or important decisions today. The Moon is in Cancer.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Friday, April 8, 2022:

You have a pioneering spirit. You're quick-minded, thorough and independent. You are also well organized, which makes you an excellent manager. This year is the final year of a nine-year cycle for you, which means you are letting go of things to create space for new beginnings next year.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★ Lively discussions might bring about changes at home. Alternatively, changes at home might bring about lively discussions! Whatever happens, you want to rouse the troops and encourage friends or members of a group or organization to follow your lead. Tonight: Keep the peace.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

★★★ Today is full of interruptions, as well as opportunities to meet new faces and see new places. Nevertheless, there is a mildly accident-prone quality present, so pay attention to everything you say and do. (It's best to make your plans behind the scenes.) Tonight: Be agreeable.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

★★★ Keep an eye on your money and your possessions today. For example, you might find money; you might lose money. Protect what you own. Meanwhile, when talking to friends and groups, you'll be convincing! Use this power wisely. "Let's streak the ball-field!" Tonight: Check your finances.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★★ Today you want to have a little excitement, which is why you might provoke others just to see their reaction. Possibly you will meet a new and exciting friend. You will certainly be capable of powerful, decisive conversations with authority figures — bosses, parents and the police. Oh yeah. Tonight: Be a role model.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★★ This is a great day to study and learn something. It's also a wonderful day to make travel plans. Your interest in philosophy, other cultures, religion and metaphysics is strong today. You want to read and discover new ideas to expand your experience of the world. Tonight: Enjoy solitude.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

★★★ You might meet someone new and interesting today or, alternatively, a friend might surprise you. This could be related to the fact that you are proactive and decisive about settling issues related to taxes, debt or shared property. You want results! Tonight: Talk to a friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

★★★★ People might be surprised to learn something unusual about you today or something that was previously private or unknown. Perhaps this is why you will have a vigorous conversation with a partner or close friend. You also might attract someone to you today who is very chatty. Tonight: Respect others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ Travel plans might change today. Or perhaps you will nurture ideas for an exciting trip. Meanwhile, you will accomplish a lot at work because you feel mentally vigorous. However, you are also very independent today! Ideally, you will work on your own. Tonight: Learn something new.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

★★★ Because you have such high energy today, you might be too aggressive with your kids. Be aware that some part of you is secretly spoiling for a fight. Because of this, be patient. Take the high road. After all, Sagittarians like to be positive and happy! Do what you can to maintain this. Tonight: Check paperwork.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

★★ Be patient with family members today, especially during discussions or doing repairs at home. You might be inclined to want things your way. Frankly, you also want to be in control. Nevertheless, someone might throw you a curveball that catches you off guard. Tonight: Be cooperative.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

★★★ You'll be assertive and direct in all your discussions with others today. Be careful that you don't arouse opposition by coming on too strong. This might relate to a surprise when dealing with a pet, your health or your work. Don't let anything trigger you. Tonight: Get organized.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★★ You will be effective in discussions about finances, cash flow and money negotiations. In fact, when it comes to your possessions, you might be a tad aggressive! Meanwhile, parents should be aware that this is a mildly accident-prone day for their kids. Social plans might change. A surprise invitation might delight you. Tonight: Playful times!
